

Perched comfortably at 3,000 ft. elevation near the head of the Appalachian trail in Ellijay, GA, this residential showhouse brought to life by HGTV's Chip Wade features VaproShield SlopeShield Plus Self Adhered. This breathable underlayment offers high quality moisture protection in a mixed-humid mountain climate, protecting against mold and mildew buildup. Its durability and slip resistance also allowed for safe installation without jeopardizing the safety of the crew. The build was featured on Fox and Friends in December 2021.
